Sylas Wright

Sylas Wright is a Sports Editor at “Sierra Sun.” This article appeared in the “Sierra Sun.”

Traditionally, newspapers are bad at boasting about their accomplishments. Each week, we print all the great things our community does, from award-winners to those who celebrate decades of being in business, but we neglect to show off our own community members who write, report and edit our publication.

This week, we thank our community again and honor our sports editor, Sylas Wright, who was selected as the recipient of the Far West Ski Association 2010 Bill Berry Hard News Award. Sylas works tirelessly to tap into community resources — like ski coaches and parents — to find out and list as many accomplishments as he can find space for each edition.

According to Far West, they wrote: “This award is given for outstanding service to skiing and is presented to writers for either a featured article or hard news. You are such a deserving person. We truly appreciate the coverage that you have given to our Athletic Scholarship Program and the deserving junior racers in the Lake Tahoe area.”

We also want to thank Sylas for his hard work, as well as thanking our community again for contributing so much content for our paper, as well as providing so much talent for us to write about.

Sylas was raised in the hills above Fresno County. He's a Lakers fan.
